Published: Thursday, April 15, 2010 8:52 PM CDT

“Flow Affair,” a film in production, explores the evolution of dance by showcasing the emergence of “floguing” — a breakthrough in dance that has only begun to show up at underground circuit parties and dance clubs and in innovative dance choreography.

Producer/ director Wolfgang Busch brought together members from the House Ball community, the originators of the dance “voguing,” and members from the “flagging” community, the originators of the dance “flagging” and “fanning,” where dancers use props including fabric and fans to create a new dance.

These dancers in turn created “floguing.”

Busch hosts a website launch party/ fundraiser to support completion of the film.

The event will be headlined by Melba Moore, the ground-breaking Tony Award-winning actress and singer, and Meli’sa Morgan, a top Billboard recording artist.

LGBT Community Center, 208 W. 13th St., 7 p.m.
